How Quickly They Forget...

As time goes by, a client's willingness to pay decreases quickly, despite their initial satisfaction with services they received from you.

The “Client’s Curve of Gratitude” illustrates collection probability. Clearly, the sooner a past-due account is referred for collection, the greater the likelihood of achieving a timely, positive resolution. Every day you wait to take action negatively impacts your company’s profitability. With every recovered dollar going directly to your bottom line, you can see that time truly is money.

Once an account has become delinquent, referring it to Summit Account Resolution in a timely manner will help you recover more revenue more quickly, while saving your valuable time and resources – and maintaining your relationship with your client.

Results That Speak for Themselves

Summit Account Resolution specializes in the unique account receivable challenges that can plague small and medium-sized businesses.

We are helping companies just like yours recover lost revenue at industry leading levels, and we have the reports to prove it.

On average, we have realized greater than 40% recovery rates over any 12-month period. This is at least 15% higher than the industry average.

Summit AR is not your typical collection agency. We attribute our success to:

- A skip-tracing department run by an actual licensed private investigator - we find 95% of the people that we look for
- The power and experience of our company’s nationwide footprint and 13 years of successful recovery of some of the most difficult debts
- Our long-term staff of trained, licensed collection professionals
- Utilizing only state-of-the-art technology
- A proven track record of providing consistent results and service that you can count on
- Treating everyone - our own clients and your delinquent clients alike - with dignity and professionalism
- Fees that you can understand – with no minimums or hidden costs of any kind.

We’ve Got a Doctorate in Dignity

Summit Account Resolution approaches every account with our “PhD” philosophy. We steadfastly strive to:

“Preserve Human Dignity.”

We are committed to treating delinquent account holders with respect and dignity. We will not browbeat, harass or belittle your clients for payments.

This is what has led us to become so successful in collecting many millions of dollars for thousands of clients over our 13-year history as Support Collectors, Inc.

Our philosophy also helps preserve the relationship that you have established with your clients so that they will want to do business with you again in the future.

A 13 Year History of Success

Summit AR is a division of Support Collectors Inc., a national collection agency that has recovered many millions of dollars in court-ordered obligations since 1996.
